AXA ROSENBERG ALL-COUNTRY ASIA PACIFIC EX-JAPAN EQUITY ALPHA FUND

Investment Manager's Report

The MSCI AC Asia ex Japan index fell -3.3% in US dollar terms over the review period. The Fund underperformed the benchmark index over this time, net of fees and expenses applicable to the A USD share class. Stock selection drove much of the underperformance but to a lesser extent, style factors, industry exposures and country allocation also contributed negatively. Style-wise it was the Fund's focus on buying attractively valued stocks and a tilt towards smaller companies within the benchmark that proved unhelpful in an environment where the value and size factors faced headwinds over the period. Among industries, the overweight to software stocks proved detrimental but was offset to some degree by the underweight to oil-related stocks as the energy sector lagged the broader market. Stock selection weighed heavily across all sectors, in particular within the financials sector. Positive contribution from stock picking however did come from within the materials sector, and holding above-benchmark in Fortescue Metals, Huaxin Cement and China National Building Material featured among the top contributors. The largest individual detractor to excess returns was Swire Properties. The Hong Kong real estate operator saw its share price suffer from the on-going protests, which became increasingly violent.

AXA ROSENBERG ALL COUNTRY ASIA PACIFIC EX-JAPAN SMALL CAP ALPHA FUND

Investment Manager's Report

The MSCI AC Asia Pacific ex Japan Small Cap index fell -5.5% in US dollar terms over the review period. The Fund underperformed its benchmark index over this time, net of fees and expenses applicable to the A USD share class. Underperformance was largely driven from the underweight to Australian stocks and the Fund's focus on buying attractively valued stocks based on earnings and assets. From a sector contribution level, the Fund's overweight to IT stocks proved helpful as the sector led the market higher. Positive contributions to excess return at the individual stock level also came from within the IT sector; holding above-benchmark positions in IT hardware names King Yuan, Avic International, Hannstar Board International and Codan all featured among the top contributors to relative returns. Weaker stock picks came from within the industrials sector, which is composed of trade-related companies and has been highly susceptible to the recent spikes in volatility induced by the on-going trade war between US and China. Consequently overweight positions in Harbin Electric, CJ Corp and Alliance Global Group featured among the bottom detractors to excess returns.

Methodology

The TER is calculated on an ex-post basis (i.e. based on the actual costs charged), by reference to the fiscal year.

The TER is equal to the ratio of the total operating costs to the average Net Asset Value. Total operating costs are expenses deducted from the assets for the relevant fiscal period. The average Net Asset Value is calculated using the Net Asset Value as at each valuation point.

E €	IE0034279186	2.24
M €	IE00B24J4Z96	0.14

Methodology

The ongoing charges figure (OCF) is based on expenses for the twelve month period ending August 2019. This figure may vary from year to year. As per the UCITS Directive, it includes stock-lending fees and excludes portfolio transaction costs, except in the case of an entry/exit charge paid by the Fund when buying or selling units in another collective investment undertaking.

AXA ROSENBERG EUROBLOC EQUITY ALPHA FUND

Investment Manager's Report

Eurobloc equity markets rose by 6.7% over the review period, as measured by the benchmark MSCI EMU Index. The Fund underperformed its benchmark index, net of fees and expenses applicable to the A EUR share class. Underperformance was driven largely by unrewarded stock selection, although contributions from risk exposures and industry allocations were also negative. Risk-wise, it was the Fund's tilt towards smaller companies within the benchmark that proved most detrimental in an environment where the size factor faced headwinds. At the industry level, the Fund's overweight to software stocks, which were among the most sold-off in August when investors took profits, was least helpful, while the underweight to IT hardware stocks, which fared much better over the six months, compounded underperformance. Elsewhere, the overweight in airlines detracted amid tough trading conditions for Europe's carriers, including overcapacity, higher fuel prices and the grounding of Boeing's 737 Max aircraft. In fact, stock selection over the period was weakest within the industrials sector, with the above-benchmark position in Lufthansa the top detractor after it issued its second profit warning of the year in June.

Investment Manager's Report

Emerging markets equities continued to struggle during period under review, the MSCI Emerging Markets Index losing some 3.7% in US dollar terms. The Fund also fell in value and underperformed its benchmark, as measured by the A USD share class, net of fees and expenses. Investor concerns around US-China trade tensions continued to be the main driver of emerging markets' weakness, causing economically sensitive sectors to perform particularly poorly. In this environment, the Fund's overall industry allocation was rewarded – including our benchmark-relative overweight exposure to utilities and underweight to materials – but stock selection and risk factor positioning – especially our focus on relatively small, lowly valued, companies – held back returns.

AXA ROSENBERG GLOBAL EQUITY ALPHA FUND

Investment Manager's Report

Global equity markets continued to rise during the period under review, the MSCI World Index climbing almost 5% in US dollar terms. The Fund underperformed its benchmark index, as measured by the A USD share class, net of fees and expenses. The ongoing weakness of lowly valued companies – a category of stock favoured by our investment process – acted as a continued drag on returns in an environment in which so-called “growth” stocks remained in the ascendancy. Towards the end of the period this dynamic shifted significantly, with valuation-oriented strategies faring significantly better. Given the magnitude and persistence of growth stocks’ outperformance in recent years – and the resulting increase in mispricing that we observe in the market – we believe that there is much to sustain the recent move in favour of value.

Investment Manager's Report

Developed market small cap equities moved higher over the review period but the Fund trailed its benchmark, as measured by the A USD share class, net of fees and expenses. The headwinds that have been present for some time for our fundamentally driven, valuation-oriented investment process remained in force in an environment in which returns were dominated by expensive growth stocks, most notably in the information technology sector. Towards the end of the period this dynamic shifted significantly, with value strategies – including our Fund – faring significantly better. Given the magnitude and persistence of growth stocks' outperformance in recent years – and the resulting increase in mispricing that we observe in the market – we believe that there is much to sustain the recent move in favour of value.

Investment Manager's Report

Japanese equities rose 1% over the review period, as measured by the benchmark TOPIX Total Return Index. The Fund rose in value but underperformed its benchmark, net of fees and expenses applicable to the A JPY share class. Industry exposures contributed positively to performance, while stock selection and risk exposure detracted from returns. Among risk factors, the inherent focus on the price paid for earnings by our investment process was unrewarded, offsetting the positive contribution from the greater emphasis to stocks with higher dividend yields. From an industry standpoint, our overweight exposures to the retailing industry proved beneficial, while an overweight to the pharmaceutical industry weighted on the return. Among individual stocks, above benchmark holding in semiconductor testing devices manufacturer Advantest featured as a top contributor; the share price surged as earnings beat expectations on strong 5G tester demand. Less helpful during the period was the overweight holding of office electronics manufacturer Konica Minolta as its shares came under pressure following disappointing quarterly earnings results.

AXA ROSENBERG JAPAN SMALL CAP ALPHA FUND

Investment Manager's Report

Small cap Japanese equities rose 0.6% over the review period, as measured by the benchmark MSCI Japan Small Cap Index. The Fund rose in value and outperformed its benchmark, net of fees and expenses applicable to the A JPY share class. Industry exposures and stock selection contributed positively to performance, with risk exposure slightly detracting from returns. Among risk factors, the inherent focus on the price paid for earnings by our investment process was unrewarded, offsetting the positive contribution from the greater emphasis to stocks with higher dividend yields. From an industry standpoint, our overweight exposures to retailing and real estate industries proved beneficial, while an overweight to the pharmaceutical industry weighted on the return. Among individual stocks, an above-benchmark holding in semiconductor testing devices manufacturer Advantest featured as a top contributor; its share price surged after earnings beat expectations on strong 5G tester demand. Less helpful during the period was the overweight holding of office electronics manufacturer Konica Minolta, as its shares came under pressure following disappointing quarterly earnings results.

AXA ROSENBERG PACIFIC EX-JAPAN EQUITY ALPHA FUND

Investment Manager's Report

The MSCI Pacific ex Japan index fell 0.3% in US dollar terms over the review period. The Fund underperformed relative to the benchmark over this time, net of fees and expenses applicable to the A USD share class. Stock selection weighed heavily on excess returns while style factors and industry exposures also went unrewarded. The tilt towards smaller companies was the main detractor as larger companies outperformed. Among industries, our overweight to real asset and software companies proved detrimental as investors shifted towards more defensive areas of the market. Stock selection was challenging among the financial sector, and the overweight positions in Hong Kong Exchanges & Clearing and Macquarie Group featured among the bottom contributors to relative returns. The largest individual detractor to excess returns was Swire Properties and its subsidiary Swire Pacific also featured among the bottom contributors. The Hong Kong real estate operator saw its share price suffer from the on-going protests, which became increasingly violent.

Methodology

The TER is calculated on an ex-post basis (i.e. based on the actual costs charged), by reference to the fiscal year.

The TER is equal to the ratio of the total operating costs to the average Net Asset Value. Total operating costs are expenses deducted from the assets for the relevant fiscal period. The average Net Asset Value is calculated using the Net Asset Value as at each valuation point.

Methodology

The ongoing charges figure (OCF) is based on expenses for the twelve month period ending August 2019. This figure may vary from year to year. As per the UCITS Directive, it includes stock-lending fees and excludes portfolio transaction costs, except in the case of an entry/exit charge paid by the Fund when buying or selling units in another collective investment undertaking.

AXA ROSENBERG PAN-EUROPEAN ENHANCED INDEX EQUITY ALPHA FUND

Investment Manager's Report

European equity markets rose by 5.7% over the review period, as measured by the benchmark MSCI Europe Index. The Fund underperformed its benchmark index, net of fees and expenses applicable to the A EUR share class, driven largely by stock selection, with industry allocations also weighing on returns. A favourable risk profile helped offset some of the losses; our investment model's focus on buying attractively-valued stocks based on assets and a greater-than-benchmark bias to those with near-term price momentum were rewarded. On a less positive note, the traditionally defensive utilities sector strongly outperformed over the period, so the underweight allocation here – particularly to electrical utilities – hurt relative returns. Similarly, the underweight to IT hardware stocks compounded underperformance as they posted solid six month returns. Meanwhile, individual stock selection within the technology sector was also penalised, and an above-benchmark holding in British software firm Micro Focus weighed heaviest after its share price plummeted 30% at the end of August as it warned of slowing sales only a few weeks after its chairman sold almost £12m worth of shares.

AXA ROSENBERG PAN-EUROPEAN EQUITY ALPHA FUND

Investment Manager's Report

European equity markets rose by 5.7% over the review period, as measured by the benchmark MSCI Europe Index. The Fund underperformed its benchmark index, net of fees and expenses applicable to the A EUR share class, driven largely by stock selection. Industry-wise, the below-benchmark allocation to integrated oil companies contributed strongly as the energy sector lagged the broader market. However, total industry contributions weighed on returns, with the Fund's positioning within the various parts of the technology sector being least helpful. The overweight to software stocks, which were among the most sold-off in August when investors took profits, negatively impacted relative returns, as did the underweight to IT hardware stocks which fared much better over the period. Individual stock selection within the technology sector was also penalised, and an above-benchmark holding in British software firm Micro Focus weighed heaviest after its share price plummeted 30% at the end of August as it warned of slowing sales only a few weeks after its chairman sold almost £12m worth of shares. The above-benchmark holding in supermarket chain Ahold Delhaize was another key detractor; its share price took a dive in Q2 as it was hit by a high profile employee strike at its Stop & Shop chain in the US, which it estimated could impact profits for the year by up to $110 million.

Methodology

The TER is calculated on an ex-post basis (i.e. based on the actual costs charged), by reference to the fiscal year.

The TER is equal to the ratio of the total operating costs to the average Net Asset Value. Total operating costs are expenses deducted from the assets for the relevant fiscal period. The average Net Asset Value is calculated using the Net Asset Value as at each valuation point.

Methodology

The ongoing charges figure (OCF) is based on expenses for the twelve month period ending August 2019. This figure may vary from year to year. As per the UCITS Directive, it includes stock-lending fees and excludes portfolio transaction costs, except in the case of an entry/exit charge paid by the Fund when buying or selling units in another collective investment undertaking.

AXA ROSENBERG PAN-EUROPEAN SMALL CAP ALPHA FUND

Investment Manager's Report

European small cap equities rose 3% over the review period, as measured by the benchmark MSCI Europe Small Cap Index. The Fund underperformed its benchmark index, net of fees and expenses applicable to the A EUR share class, as its risk and industry exposures were out of favour, with stock selection also penalised. Risk-wise, our investment model's focus on buying attractively-valued stocks based on assets and a greater-than-benchmark bias to those with near-term price momentum were the main drags. Among industries, the overweight to oil companies detracted as energy stocks generally struggled, however the below-benchmark allocation to miscellaneous finance stocks weighed heaviest. Stock selection was particularly weak within the wider financials sector and holdings in Banco Commercial Portugues and insurer Saga were the top two detractors; Saga shares hit record lows in April, shedding almost half their value after it reported lower profits and issued a profit warning, and have not recovered since.

AXA ROSENBERG US ENHANCED INDEX EQUITY ALPHA FUND

Investment Manager's Report

US Equity markets enjoyed a positive half-year to the end of September, with the S&P 500 index up by 5.8% in US dollar terms during the period. The Fund underperformed over this time, net of fees and expenses applicable to the A USD share class, due mainly to stock-specific issues, although common factor exposures were also detrimental – an above-benchmark beta exposure in particular being unrewarded. Industry allocations provided modest positive contributions overall, and most notably from our tobacco divestment stance as the industry continued to face a challenging market environment. Nil-positions in Altria Group and Philip Morris were both rewarded as a result. However, a weakness in stock selection across most sectors had the biggest impact, and picking within consumer discretionary weighed heaviest. Above-benchmark holdings in clothing brands Gap and Ralph Lauren were top detractors as their shares fell on disappointing earnings results and subsequent downgrades from analysts. Similarly, holding insurer Prudential Financial overweight was detrimental as its shares fell sharply after it disappointed on Q2 earnings and lowered its full year forecast, resulting in a raft of downgrades from analysts.

As per the UCITS Directive, it includes stock-lending fees and excludes portfolio transaction costs, except in the case of an entry/exit charge paid by the Fund when buying or selling units in another collective investment undertaking.

AXA ROSENBERG US EQUITY ALPHA FUND

Investment Manager's Report

US Equity markets enjoyed a positive half-year to end of September, with the S&P 500 index up by 5.8% in US dollar terms during the period. The Fund underperformed its benchmark over this time, measured by the A USD share class net of fees and expenses, as unfavourable common factor exposures outweighed positive industry positioning, while contributions from stock selection were flat. Risk-wise, the Fund's overweight to higher beta and more frequently-traded stocks weighed heavily on relative returns, while a bias towards smaller companies within the benchmark also detracted. In mitigation, the Fund's exposure to the value factor through higher earnings yield, in particular within the slow-growing segment of the market, was rewarded. Among industries, the below-benchmark weighting in pharmaceuticals stocks helped as the healthcare sector posted negative returns, while the underweight to oil companies proved beneficial as the energy sector lagged by a significant margin. Our tobacco divestment stance was also rewarded as the industry continued to face a challenging market environment, and not holding Altria Group provided one of the top stock contributions as a result.

AXA ROSENBERG US SMALL CAP ALPHA FUND

Investment Manager's Report

The Russell 2000 Index ended a volatile three months to end-June roughly 2% higher in US dollar terms, as strong gains in April and June offset a steep decline in May. The Fund underperformed its benchmark index due to an unfavourable style profile and weak stock selection. A greater-than-benchmark exposure to more frequently-traded stocks and a bias towards smaller companies within the benchmark weighed on relative returns. In contrast, industry allocations contributed to performance, helped by the relative overweight to insurance stocks which boosted the financial sector. The portfolio's weak stock picks came from within the consumer discretionary sector; above-benchmark holdings in Haseko and Big Lots detracted as both saw share prices fall steeply during the global sell-off in May. The largest individual detractor to returns was the position in United Therapeutics. Despite beating estimates, its stock fell due to a loss at the bottom line owing to a one-time license fee expense and a fall in revenue year-on-year.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

For the period ended September 30, 2019

5. Fees and Expenses (continued)

Distribution Fees

The Manager has appointed the Investment Manager as Master Distributor for the Trust. The Distributor is entitled to a distribution fee in respect of all the active classes of units (except for Class E), which will be payable by the Manager out of its own assets. The fee payable in respect of Class E units shall be payable out of the assets attributable to the Class E Units of the relevant Fund only. This distribution fee is calculated daily and paid monthly in arrears, at an annual rate of up to a maximum of 0.75% per annum on the relevant Units and calculated on the average daily NAV of the relevant Units.

6. Distributions

The Directors are empowered to declare dividends on any Class of Units in respect of any Fund. Generally, it is intended that the Classes of Units shall be accumulating Classes and, therefore, it is not intended to distribute dividends to Unitholders in these Classes. In the absence of such a declaration, the net revenue from these Classes will be accumulated and reinvested on behalf of Unitholders.

However, the Directors may create Classes of Units that are distributing Units. In respect of these Units, the Directors have resolved that distributions should be paid out of the interest and dividends earned by the relevant Funds, which are attributable to the relevant distributing Unit Class. These dividends will be declared and paid as set out in the relevant Funds' details (in Appendix V of the Trust's Prospectus) which will also set out the relevant distribution dates and payment frequencies. Any distribution or other monies payable in respect of any Unit (excluding any fees) will be paid by CHAPS, SWIFT, telegraphic or federal wire transfer to the bank account of the relevant Unitholder as indicated on the Application Form for the Units or as otherwise advised or agreed between the Manager and the Unitholder.

7. Soft Commissions and Direct Brokerage Services

During the year ended September 30, 2019 and the year ended March 31, 2019 the Trust did not enter into any soft commission or direct brokerage services arrangements.

8. Securities Lending

The Company may employ techniques and instruments relating to transferable securities for efficient portfolio management purposes including security lending arrangements.

The Funds may utilise stock lending agreements. In such a transaction the Funds may temporarily transfer their securities to a borrower, with agreement by the borrower to return equivalent securities to the Funds. In entering into such a transaction a Fund will be endeavouring to increase the returns of its portfolio of securities by receiving a fee for lending its securities to the borrower, while retaining the securities potential for capital appreciation.

The Manager on behalf of the Funds has appointed AXA Investment Managers GS Ltd to act as its agent for the purpose of lending securities to brokers, dealers and other financial institutions. The agent earns a fee equal to 20% of the security lending income earned on the transaction.

Securities lending income is received net of fees as shown in the Statement of Comprehensive Income for each Fund. Income receivable on securities lending activities is accounted for on an accruals basis.

Collateral received, can take the form of securities, cash and highly-rated government debt. The collateral was maintained for the Funds at a minimum margin of 105% of the value of the security on loan and marked to market daily. There was no cash collateral received as at September 30, 2019 and March 31, 2019.

10. Taxation

Under current law and practice the Trust qualifies as an investment undertaking as defined in Section 739B of the Taxes Consolidation Act, 1997, as amended. On that basis, it is not chargeable to Irish tax on its income or gains.

However, Irish tax may arise on the happening of a "chargeable event". A chargeable event includes any distribution payments to Unitholders, any encashment, redemption, cancellation or transfer of units and the holding of units at the end of each eight year period beginning with the acquisition of such units. No Irish tax will arise on the Trust in respect of chargeable events in respect of:

- a Unitholder who is neither Irish resident nor ordinarily resident in Ireland for tax purposes, at the time of the chargeable event, provided appropriate valid declarations in accordance with the provisions of the Taxes Consolidation Act, 1997, as amended, are held by the Trust or the Trust has been authorised by the Irish Revenue to make gross payments in the absence of appropriate declarations; and
- certain exempted Irish tax resident Unitholders who have provided the Trust with the necessary signed statutory declarations.

Dividends, interest and capital gains (if any) received on investments made by the Trust may be subject to withholding taxes imposed by the country from which the investment income/gains are received and such taxes may not be recoverable by the Trust or its Unitholders.

Connected Persons

In accordance with Regulation 43 of the UCITS Regulations "Restrictions of transactions with connected persons" states that "A responsible person shall ensure that any transaction between a UCITS and a connected person is conducted a) at arm's length, and b) in the best interest of the unit-holders of the UCITS". Such transactions must be in the best interests of the Trust's unitholders.

Unitholders should refer to the Prospectus which identifies in the Conflicts of Interest Section, many of the transactions with connected persons and the general nature of the contractual arrangements with the principal connected parties but it is not exhaustive of all transactions with connected persons.

As required under UCITS Regulation 81.4, the Board of Directors of the Manager, as responsible persons, are satisfied that there are arrangements in place, evidenced by written procedures, to ensure that the obligations that are prescribed by Regulation 43(1) are applied to all transactions with a connected party; and all transactions with connected parties that were entered into during the period to which the report relates, complied with the obligations that are prescribed by Regulation 43(1).

Note 12 details related party transactions in the period as required by the financial reporting standards. However, unitholders should understand that not all "connected persons" are related parties as such latter expression is defined by those financial reporting standards. Details of fees paid to related parties and certain connected persons are set out in Notes 5 and 8.

The following transactions are transactions with connected persons:

- (i) Foreign exchange transactions with State Street Bank and Trust Company;
- (ii) Stock lending activity with AXA Investment Managers GS Limited as agent for the Manager;
- (iii) Belgian paying agent fees paid to AXA Bank Europe SA and
- (iv) the production of Key Information Documents in respect of the Fund by Deloitte Luxembourg.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

For the period ended September 30, 2019

13. Financial Risks Management Process

Oversight and Implementation

The activities of the Trust expose it to various financial risks such as market risk (including market price risk, interest rate risk, and currency risk), credit risk and liquidity risk. The Trust's overall risk management process focuses on the unpredictability of financial markets and seeks to minimise potential adverse effects on the Trust's financial performance. The Trust's financial risk management objectives and policies are consistent with those disclosed in the Trust's audited financial statements as at and for the year ended March 31, 2019.

Fair Value Estimation

The Funds' classify fair value measurements using a fair value hierarchy that reflects the significance of the inputs used in making the measurements. The daily implementation of the fair value policy is delegated to the Administrator by the Manager. The fair value hierarchy has the following levels:

- Level 1 - Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2 - Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (that is, as prices) or indirectly (that is, derived from prices).
- Level 3 - Inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (that is, unobservable inputs).

The level in the fair value hierarchy within which the fair value measurement is categorised in its entirety is determined on the basis of the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement in its entirety. For this purpose, the significance of an input is assessed against the fair value measurement in its entirety. If a fair value measurement uses observable inputs that require significant adjustment based on unobservable inputs, that measurement is a Level 3 measurement. Assessing the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgement, considering factors specific to the asset or liability

The determination of what constitutes 'observable' requires significant judgement by the Manager. The Manager considers observable data to be that market data that is readily available, regularly distributed or updated, reliable and verifiable, not proprietary, and provided by independent sources that are actively involved in the relevant market.

Please refer to the tables below which disclose the fair value hierarchy levels for the Funds as at September 30, 2019 and March 31, 2019.
